

Inter-Provincial Calculation for CPP and QPP Contributions and Overpayments

The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) and Quebec Pension Plan (QPP) were amended to provide for the enhancement of pensions. The enhancements are funded by additional contributions that began in January 2019.

As of January 2024, a second additional contribution is required on pensionable earnings that are more than the year's maximum pensionable earnings, but not more than the year's additional maximum pensionable earnings.

Your CPP and QPP contributions consist of a base amount, first additional amount and second additional amount. The contributions that you are required to make are determined by your total amount of pensionable earnings for the year.

Your employer will have already deducted the contributions from your salary or wages. As a self-employed individual, you will calculate your required contributions (if any), including the base, first, and second additional amounts, on this form.

The CPP and the QPP have different base contribution rates. The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) must be able to calculate your CPP and QPP contributions separately using the applicable rate(s).

The CRA will use the information from this form to calculate the portion of the year's basic exemption and the maximum contributory earnings to be applied to the CPP and QPP.

For more information about the enhancements, go to canada.ca/cpp-enhancement or revenuquebec.ca/en.

For more information about lines 22200, 22215, 30800, and 31000, go to canada.ca/fed-tax-information.

Part 5 – Complete this part (starting on page 16) if you are a resident of Quebec and you are reporting both:

- employment income (complete Part 3 first)
- self-employment income or other earnings you want to make optional QPP contributions on

If not, leave this part blank.

Part 1 – Election to stop contributing to the CPP or revocation of a prior election (for residents of a province or territory other than Quebec on December 31, 2025)

You were considered a CPP working beneficiary and were required to make CPP contributions in 2025 if you met all of the following conditions:

- You were 60 to 70 years of age
- You received a CPP or QPP retirement pension
- You had employment income or self-employment income, or both

However, if you were at least 65 years of age, but under 70 years of age, you can elect to stop paying CPP contributions.

Employment income only

If you had employment income for 2025 and elected in 2025 to stop paying CPP contributions or revoked, in 2025, an election made in a previous year, you should have already completed and sent Form CPT30, Election to Stop Contributing to the Canada Pension Plan or Revocation of a Prior Election, to the CRA and your employer(s).

Employment and self-employment income

If you had both employment income and self-employment income in 2025 and wanted to elect to stop paying CPP contributions in 2025 or revoke, in 2025, an election made in a previous year, you should have completed Form CPT30 in 2025. An election made using Form CPT30 applies to all income from pensionable earnings, including self-employment earnings, as of the first day of the month after the date you gave this form to your employer.

If you completed and sent Form CPT30 when you became employed in 2025, but your intent was to elect in 2025 to stop paying CPP contributions or revoke an election made in a previous year on your self-employment income before you became employed, enter the month you want to stop paying CPP contributions on line 50372.

If you want to revoke, in 2025, an election made in a previous year, enter the month that you want to resume contributing to the CPP on line 50374.

If you did not complete and send Form CPT30 for 2025 when you became employed, you cannot elect to stop paying CPP contributions or revoke an election made in a previous year on your self-employment earnings for 2025 on this form.

Election or revocation

If you had self-employment income in 2025, an election or a revocation that begins in 2025 must be made on or before June 15, 2027, to be valid.

I elect to stop contributing to the CPP on my self-employment earnings on the first day of the month entered on line 50372.
