I. STATEMENT OF POLICY

3. Persons age 18 through 59 enrolled at least half-time in any recognized school (including high school), training program, or institution of higher education. Students enrolled at least half-time in an institution of higher education must meet the student eligibility requirements in E-260 to meet this exemption. A student will remain exempt during normal periods of class attendance, vacation, and recess if he intends to return.

Note: Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) is an accepted training program and participants who are enrolled in these programs at least half time are exempt from work requirements.

4. Parents or other household members personally providing the care of a dependent child under age 6 or an incapacitated person of any age. Verify that the person is needed to care for the incapacitated person.

Note: Verification from a medical provider must be obtained to verify the need for care for the incapacitated person.

5. Regular participants in drug or alcohol treatment and rehabilitation programs. Individuals participating in either an inpatient or outpatient drug or alcohol treatment and rehabilitation program are considered temporarily unfit for work.
6. Persons who are temporarily or permanently disabled (physically or mentally). Form SNAP 90 may be used to verify the disability.

A pregnant woman must register unless a doctor's statement verifies incapacity.

7. Persons working an average of 30 hours per week or receiving average weekly gross earnings equivalent to 30 multiplied by the federal minimum wage. Migrant and seasonal farm workers under contract or similar agreement with an employer or crew chief to begin work within 30 days are exempt.

If an individual received UCB in the last 12 months and complied with the work requirements for UCB, that individual is exempt from work registration requirements. Work registration status 'Unemployment Compensation' should be used.

An individual who is enrolled at least half-time in a school (including high school) or training program that is not considered an institution of higher education is considered a student. The student is exempt from work registration requirements and must have a work registration status of 'Student/Eligible'.

Verify that the person is needed to provide care for an incapacitated person. Verification from a medical provider must be obtained to verify the need for the incapacitated person. The Request for Verification of the Need for Full-Time Care (OFS 90L) may be used to verify if there is an incapacitated person who requires full-time care. Incapacity due to pregnancy complications must be verified. The worker's observation of an obvious disability is adequate justification for granting an exemption. If questionable, verify disability by a doctor's statement or other third party documentary evidence which supports the person's claim. The SNAP Disability Verification Form (SNAP 90) may be used.

Examples of questionable exemptions:

Example: A client reports she is disabled. She says her doctor does not want her to work. When asked what is her disability or what is the reason the doctor does not want her to work she says she is not really sure. She just knows he told her he does not want her to work. This is questionable. Verification would be needed to exempt the client.

Example: A client reports she is disabled. She says she is not able to work because of migraine headaches that she has been having for the last three years. The client stated she has never applied for disability because of her condition. Verification would be needed to exempt the client.

Example: A client reports at application that she is unable to work because she recently broke her right leg. Client is exempt due to temporary disability. At redetermination, the client reports she is unable to work because she recently broke her right leg. When questioned about previous report of breaking right leg she changes to say that it is now her left leg that is broken. The information is now questionable. Verification would be needed to exempt the client at redetermination.

Individuals participating in an approved inpatient drug or alcohol treatment program must be documented on the Living Arrangement- Details screen in LITE.

Individuals regularly participating in an outpatient drug or alcohol treatment program are considered temporarily unfit for work and must be documented on the Disability screen in LITE. Outpatient drug or alcohol treatment participants must be coded as temporarily disabled with the criteria of 'No Federal Disability'. Select the applicable verification type from the "If no criteria from above:" drop down.
